Thermal water:

The thermal water originates from a deep reservoir located at a depth of 1,865 metres. The sodium chloride sulphate water comes from a sulphur spring rich in divalent sulphur (contains 5 mg S²⁻ /l), with a temperature of 26.7° Celsius. The water is pumped up and reaches a temperature of 40° Celsius when it comes to the surface, with a flow velocity of about 3-4 liters per second.

Thermal spa:

The entire Feng-Shui-oriented facility extends about 50,000 m², and the water surface is 2,200 m².

Spa offer:

The Ursprung spa dome in the shape of a glass crystal offers two indoor pools with a water temperature of 34° and 36° Celsius.

The Talfrische outdoor spa contains three seemingly levitating bowl-shaped pools with a diameter from 12 to 16 metres: one salt water pool with underwater music and light effects, one massage pool with a fountain of thermal water and one Jacuzzi pool.

Additionally, we offer a 25-metres swimming pool for sports, an activity pool with underwater fitness equipment, relaxation areas, a glazed panorama area for our hotel guests only, a separate indoor and outdoor children's area with daily care and free animation programme.
